Environmental Policy

ANF AC is responsible for minimizing its impact on the environment, both in our global operations and in the products that we design, manufacture and sell.

We are willing to follow sound environmental practices and we encourage our employees to identify opportunities to reduce waste and minimize energy consumption, for which we have established and implemented an environmental management system based on the requirements of the ISO 14001: 2015 standard.

Our environmental principles based on continuous improvement and prevention of pollution are the following:

- Prevention
- Commitment
- Sustainability

The identification and evaluation of environmental aspects allows the company to maintain an environmental management based on the following objectives:

- Strengthen product stewardship through the adoption and integration of Design for Environment (DfE) practices that guarantee minimal environmental impact throughout the product life cycle.
- Promote environmental responsibility throughout our supply chain.
- Adopt the principles of reduce, reuse and recycle, while implementing programs aimed at reducing waste in global operations.
- Maintain an environmental management system in accordance with ISO 14001 that ensures: (i) that objectives are established and compliance with them is verified; (ii) that processes and technologies are continually reviewed to conform to best practices; (iii) that continuous improvement in processes is pursued; (iv) that all employees are aware of and share the responsibility of maintaining sound environmental practices.
- Comply with the applicable legal requirements and with other subscribed requirements related to its environmental aspects.

ANF AC promotes environmental improvement, and allocates the necessary resources to ensure the successful implementation and compliance of this environmental policy.

This policy is published in all ANF AC facilities, and is always available to employees on the ANF AC intranet site and to the public and our suppliers at www.anf.es
